(a) Graph showing the sensitivity and precision of models. The X-axis represents sensitivity, while the Y-axis represents precision.

(b) Graph showing the F1 score with respect to the number of input datasets. The X-axis represents the number of input datasets, and the Y-axis represents the F1 score. The datasets are classified into categories: Rainfall, Rainfall+Soil moisture, and Rainfall+Soil moisture.