The authors thank very much for the Referee Comment. We apologize for the typing errors in Section 3.3 in formulas (1) and (2) which arose during the editing process. In the attached file we set them right. The calculations in the other sections of the paper are correct.

As an answer to the referee's comment we attach (in PDF format) the improved text of the Section 3.3 with two tables (A and B) explaining how the scores were adopted. The tables A and B are not included in the original paper due to their size. During the scoring the more detailed analysis of individual items has to be carried out; the local conditions in both groups P and W have to be taken into account.
