Title: Study of the 2013 Lushan M7.0 earthquake coseismic ionospheric disturbances Author(s): P. Chen et al. MS No.: nhess-2013-359

The previous relevant studies about coseismic ionospheric disturbances focused on high magnitude earthquakes, but this paper studied the coseismic ionospheric disturbances after M7.0 earthquake , the results show that there are also obvious coseismic ionospheric disturbances after lower magnitude earthquake .

Reviewers Sergey Pulinets also recognized the value and significance of this paper.
