I thank both the authors of the manuscript and reviewers, for their effort spent during this interactive discussion. Regarding the title of the manuscript, while sharing the concerns by Bruno Faria, I consider the proposal of Frank Lavigne: "Reducing volcanic risk on Fogo volcano, Cape Verde, in the village of Cha das Caldeiras, through a participatory approach: which coming out?" a title too long. In my opinion, we may retain the original title, also bearing in mind that the text specifies the exact geographical area of the island that has been analyzed.
