My comments are unavoidably limited to my reading of the abstract as I have no access to the full paper and it seems my system or this one will not permit such access.

BUT, I like this contribution. such garnering of often forgotten and overlooked sources, and the consequent combination of them with more up-to-date material is to be commended.

I regret that beyond this I can make no confident recommendation for publication or otherwise

If the editorial board can arrange a PDF file to be sent to me of the full text I shall happily review the whole contribution.
