

Interactive comment on “50 years return period wet-snow load estimation based on weather station data for overhead line design purpose” by H. Ducloux and B. E. Nygaard

S. Fikke

fikke@metconsult.no

Received and published: 8 October 2014

I have read this manuscript with great interest. I will suggest the following change for the second hyphen on top of p 5152. It would be better to say here: - It is assumed that a 25 year period is long enough to reflect the normal variability in local weather, and short enough not to be influenced significantly by any long term trends in climate.

Interactive comment on Nat. Hazards Earth Syst. Sci. Discuss., 2, 5139, 2014.

C2233