General comments

I have made a second review of the paper "Lightning fatalities and injuries in Turkey" by Tilev-Tanrioer et al. for publication in Natural Hazards and Earth System Sciences. I appreciate the changes and updates made by the authors, and have only one small detail, as follows. Otherwise, I recommend the paper to be published.

In the Acknowledgments, the lightning data from Vaisala are stated to be cloud-to-ground only. Actually, they are about 80% cloud-to-ground and 20% cloud lightning.
