Received and published: 8 September 2016

All responses to two referees were given in a table with three columns (first column for referee 1, second column for referee 2, and third column for responses) due to existence of similar comments of two referees. Similar comments of referees reviewed in same line of table. In addition, final revised manuscript and a manuscript with highlighted revisions were prepared in Microsoft Word. In the manuscript with highlighted revisions, removed sentences from pre-revised version were depicted as “. . .removed sentences. . .” and newly added sentences were depicted as “. . .newly added sentences. . .”.
