

General comment

The authors responded to all comments clearly. I found their arguments persuasive and therefore I believe that the article merits to be published.

Minor change

Both reviewers asked for a Table presenting the literature review and the authors suggested that a supplementary material could be provided. If this is feasible and the Editor also finds it necessary, I think that such Table could add to the scientific value/quality of the article.