Interactive comment on “Evaluating forest fire probability under the influence of human activity based on remote sensing and GIS” by Wei Yang and Xiaoli Jiang

Wei Yang and Xiaoli Jiang
weiaiweiwei@163.com

Received and published: 13 March 2020

Referee #1

(1) Line 119: Why the NDVI data were selected from March to November? Author’s response: This is because the fire season was from March to November. Author’s changes in manuscript: no change about this comment

(2) Line 164: “For a quantitative measurements”, should it be for a quantitative measurement? Author’s response: revised. Author’s changes in manuscript: revised in accordance with the comment

(3) Line 195: “the minimum distance was 26 m”, what is the resolution of the spatial data you used? Author’s response: the data was obtained by a visual interpretation method based on Landsat data, so the data format is vector. Author’s changes in manuscript: no change about this comment

(4) In Table 4, City column you must delete all “city” word besides the city name. Author’s response: revised. Author’s changes in manuscript: revised in accordance with the comment