

The revised manuscript regarding the utilization of a Bayesian Network Model for flood forecasting is improved. However, the second comment was partially covered. The table that was attached within “the replies to reviewers” part is not the same as the one imported within the manuscript. The Duration of the storms and the duration of the runs are not evident.