

Interactive comment on “Introduction to the special issue “Venice flooding and sea level: past evolution, present issues and future projections”” by Piero Lionello et al.

Piero Lionello et al.

piero.lionello@unisalento.it

Received and published: 31 January 2021

We thank reviewer 1 for these comments. The numerical information in the quoted sentence referring to St. Mark’s Square is correct. However, it is, indeed, appropriate rewording it. In the revised text we will explain that “. . .nowadays even a positive sea level anomaly that is only few centimeters above astronomical high tide (whose level is approximately 50cm) can partially flood it . . .”.

Interactive comment on Nat. Hazards Earth Syst. Sci. Discuss., <https://doi.org/10.5194/nhess-2020-367>, 2020.