

Thank you very much for acceptance of the manuscript.

I went through the text again, trying to find and fix inconsistencies and repetitions. I add few lines to the introduction of Discussion section to connect particular following subsections.

Also few inconsistencies between Discussion and Conclusion sections were edited to make it clear (predispositions and trigger factors are consistent now across the text including abstract).

Maps and captions were edited to fulfil journal standard. Source citation added to map captions.

Thorough English proof reading by native speaker with considerable experience with scientific texts Richard Withers were performed (in previous version in case of revised text it was not done).

best regards
